Asian Studies Research Award

Receive an award & scholarship for your research

Open to all UA undergraduates

Submission Deadline December 10

The 2017 Asian Studies Research Award, along with a small scholarship, is given to the UA undergraduate whose research or creative project related to Asia is selected by a faculty committee. Submissions must have a substantial engagement with an aspect of Asia. All students are also encouraged to submit projects to present at the UA Undergraduate Research Symposium in Spring 2017.

Submit the paper or project by December 10, 2016, to asianstudies@as.ua.edu. All submissions must include a cover page with name, CWID, email address, and a 3-4 sentence summary of the paper or project. For creative projects that are not in a paper format, students should submit a 1-2 page description of the project and its academic basis along with appropriate documentation (e.g., photos, video, audio files). The Research Award and the Asian Studies Outstanding Student Award (restricted to minors in Asian Studies) will both be presented in an event around Honors Week in April.

For more information, visit <http://www.as.ua.edu/asianstudies>, or contact Dr. Steven Ramey, sramey@ua.edu.
